

Sessions from 6 months to 1 year

Once your baby is able to sit unsupported, it opens up a whole new range of possibilities. At this age he/she will be active and curious about the environment, offering up the potential for interaction with props and lots of eye contact with the camera.

Mum and dad will play a far more active role in the photoshoot with this age group and I'll be asking you to coo, wave or pull faces from behind the camera to grab attention and try to entice a smile or laugh. It's also during this age range that babies find their mobility and begin to crawl. This can make it a tiring session for parents with picking baby up and returning him/her to the appropriate area. It's often a good idea to bring some toys or entertainment to try to keep baby occupied and relatively still.

❖ Planning your Session

Prior to your session, start having a think about the type and style of photos that you'd like. We can accommodate several different styles and clothing changes over the course of the session. The main limiting factor will be the baby and how much re-positioning or changing of clothing he/she will tolerate before getting too fed up and grumpy.

Session Checklist

Content : Do you simply want photos of your new arrival or would you also like to include some photos of mum/dad/siblings with the baby?

Colour schemes : Are there any particular colours that you'd like to feature in your images and just as importantly are there any colours that we need to avoid?

Props : Are there any specific props that you'd like to include?
for example : baskets | chalkboard | bunting | flowers

Themes : Is there a theme that you'd like to incorporate into some of your shots?
for example : seasonal | sports | fairytale | nursery rhyme

Individual Touches : Do you have any personal items that you'd like to feature in some of the photos?
for example : a special blanket | booties | teddy | an item of jewellery

Style : Do you have a preferred style for your photos?
For example : elegant and artistic black & whites | natural close ups | soft, dreamy pastels

Baby Girls : Do you like frilly, girly set ups with headbands, tutus etc or would you prefer something more plain and natural?

Baby Boys : Do you like the plain, natural look or do you want to make use of hats / costumes?

Essential photos : Are there any 'must have' shots that you'd like to get out of your session?

Take a look at my portfolio page for ideas and inspiration and also feel free to show me examples of anything else you've seen that you'd like to include.

❖ Before your Session

Once you've decided on the style and type of photos that you want, I'll prepare an outline plan for your session so that you have an idea of what to expect.

Most props will be supplied ready for your use, but if you'd like to include any items of your own, make sure that you have them ready so that they're close to hand for you to pack on the day of your session.

❖ On the day of your session

These sessions are always easier with a relaxed, content baby so wherever possible, try to arrange your appointment for a time of day when he/she is likely to be most settled and content.

Depending on how far you have to travel, either feed and change baby before leaving home or make use of the time available at the start of the session for a feed and nappy change once you arrive. A full tummy and a dry bottom are the fastest route to a happy baby.

Dress and wrap baby appropriately for your car journey, but try to stick to clothing that will be easy to undo and remove for the minimum amount of upset and disruption after you arrive. I'll make sure that the studio is warm and cosy for you!!!

The studio is very quiet, but I can play some white noise or heartbeat sounds to assist baby with getting settled if required. If you prefer, you're also very welcome to bring some background noise or familiar music on your phone / device to use during the session.

❖ During your session

Sometimes we get lucky and baby will remain happy and smiley right through from beginning to end. However, it's not uncommon for them to become upset or agitated at some point during the session. Try not to get stressed or worried. You certainly won't be the first and there's plenty of time built into your appointment to get baby settled again.

Although we'll have prepared an outline session plan in advance so that we have an idea of what set-ups we'll be working with, these sessions have to be led by the baby to a certain extent. If he/she is unhappy or uncomfortable with a particular prop or pose, I'll have plenty of alternative ideas that we can use and we can adapt our plan to accommodate your baby's mood on the day.

I always allow up to 1.5 hours for this age group but most sessions take about an hour.
